

2025 Annual Ultrasound Evaluation of the Fetal Heart for Sonographers

October 24, 2025 from 10:00 am – 3:30 pm

Advanced training for sonographers on systematic fetal heart evaluation. Learn to standardize technique, apply updated guidelines, optimize imaging, detect subtle abnormalities, and integrate findings into comprehensive patient care.

Objectives

- ✓ Summarize the current professional society guidelines (AIUM, ISUOG, ASE) for the systematic ultrasound evaluation of the fetal heart.
- ✓ Demonstrate correct acquisition of all recommended fetal cardiac views, including the four-chamber, outflow tracts, and three-vessel views.
- ✓ Apply image optimization techniques to improve visualization in challenging scanning conditions.
- ✓ Differentiate between normal anatomic variants and pathologic findings using a structured evaluation protocol.
- ✓ Integrate fetal cardiac ultrasound findings with maternal and fetal risk factors to inform timely referral and management decisions.
